

Star Auditions

Person comes in and sticks up a poster advertising “auditions for a star”.

Director walks in and announces :

Today we are holding auditions for the part of a star in a new film to be produced here in .....later on this year. The film will be released on 24th December 2013. Is there anyone here who would like to audition for the part of a star? Oh here are some budding actors! (Enter anchor boys dressed as stars. They sit in the middle of the hall.)

Director

Hello everyone. I am glad you could make it to our auditions today. This is a very special part and a group of stars will be chosen. One star out of the successful group will get the starring role in my film.

Now would the blue stars please come up and tell me why you should be chosen for the part

(All the stars of each colour reply together).

Blue stars:

We are very special stars. We can shine very brightly and can light up the whole sky.

Director:

Thank you.

Now can the red stars please come up and tell me why you should be chosen for the part.

Red stars:

We are very special stars. We are not afraid of heights and can stay up very high in the sky.

Director:

Thank you.

Now can the Green stars please come up and tell me why you should be chosen for the part.

Green stars:

We are very special stars. We are very good at directions and can lead people to wherever they want to go.

Director:

Thank you.

Now can the Yellow stars please come up and tell me why you should be chosen for the part.

Yellow stars:

We are very special stars. We are not afraid of the dark and can see people in the dark.

Director:

Thank you.

Now can the white stars please come up and tell me why you should be chosen for the part.

White stars:

We are very special stars. We are the biggest stars and people love to watch us in the sky.

Director:

Thank you all very much.

Now I would like you all to walk in a straight line and sit around the edge of the hall. As it is nearly night time I would like to see you all shine in the dark. (Boys sit around the edge of the hall and the lights dim)

Boys can see a chorus here "This little light of mine"

(Lights go back on)

Director

Thank you everyone! You are all fantastic stars. You all shone brightly so I will choose you all to star in my film as we need a sky full of stars. But one of you will be chosen for the starring role. I will be in contact in next few weeks to tell you who has got the starring role. Filming will start soon for our play "The Christmas Story". Now you all can go home.

Many thanks everyone and Good night.
